In a world of extreme complexity, at a time in one's life when self-assurance and confidence are the most important of all virtues, man is divided. Divided between what he knows to exist, what he knows should be, and what he wishes were ☐

Man is more honest with himself and with others, and no longer deludes himself into thinking everything is fine ☐

No longer is man satisfied to strive for material goals alone, but seeks to pioneer social, intellectual and spiritual frontiers □

In order to obtain these goals man must have a medium, a means by which he can develop and realize his ideas—ideas which allow his very existence to perpetuate itself ☐

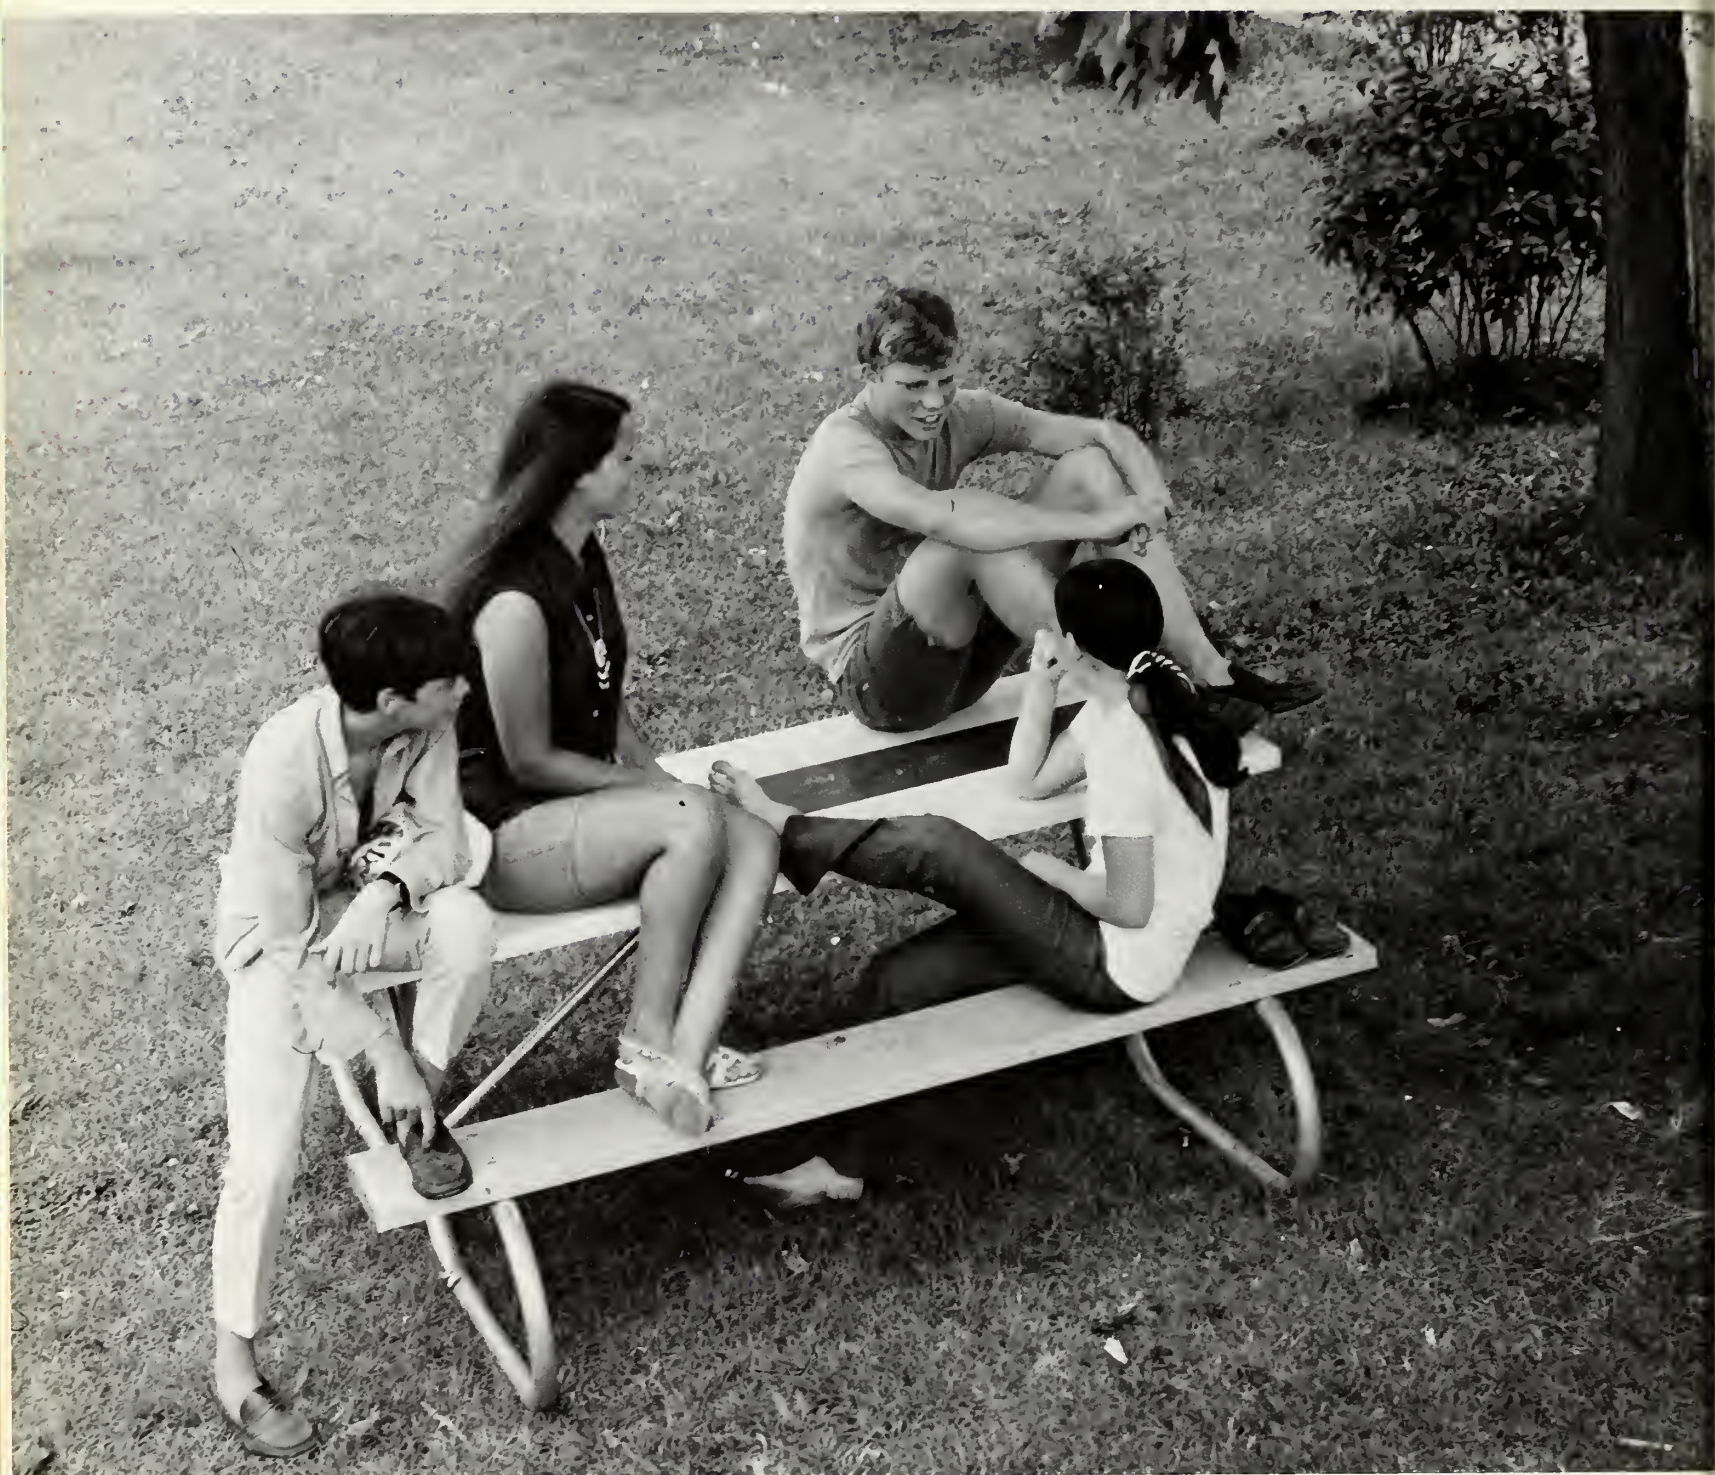

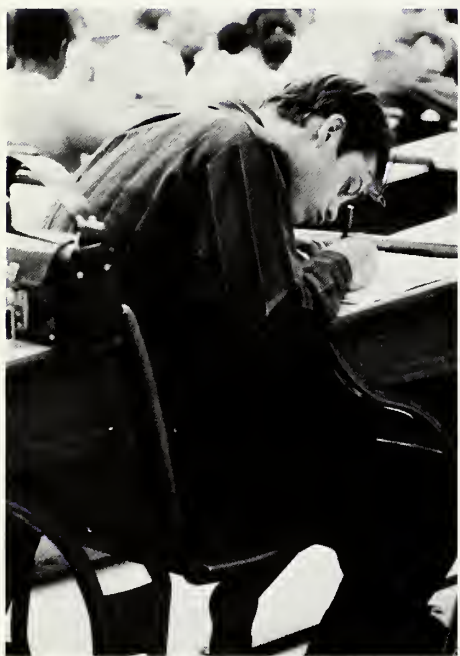

Thornton provides such a medium through lively classes, new responsibilities, challenging problems, and greater satisfactions ☐

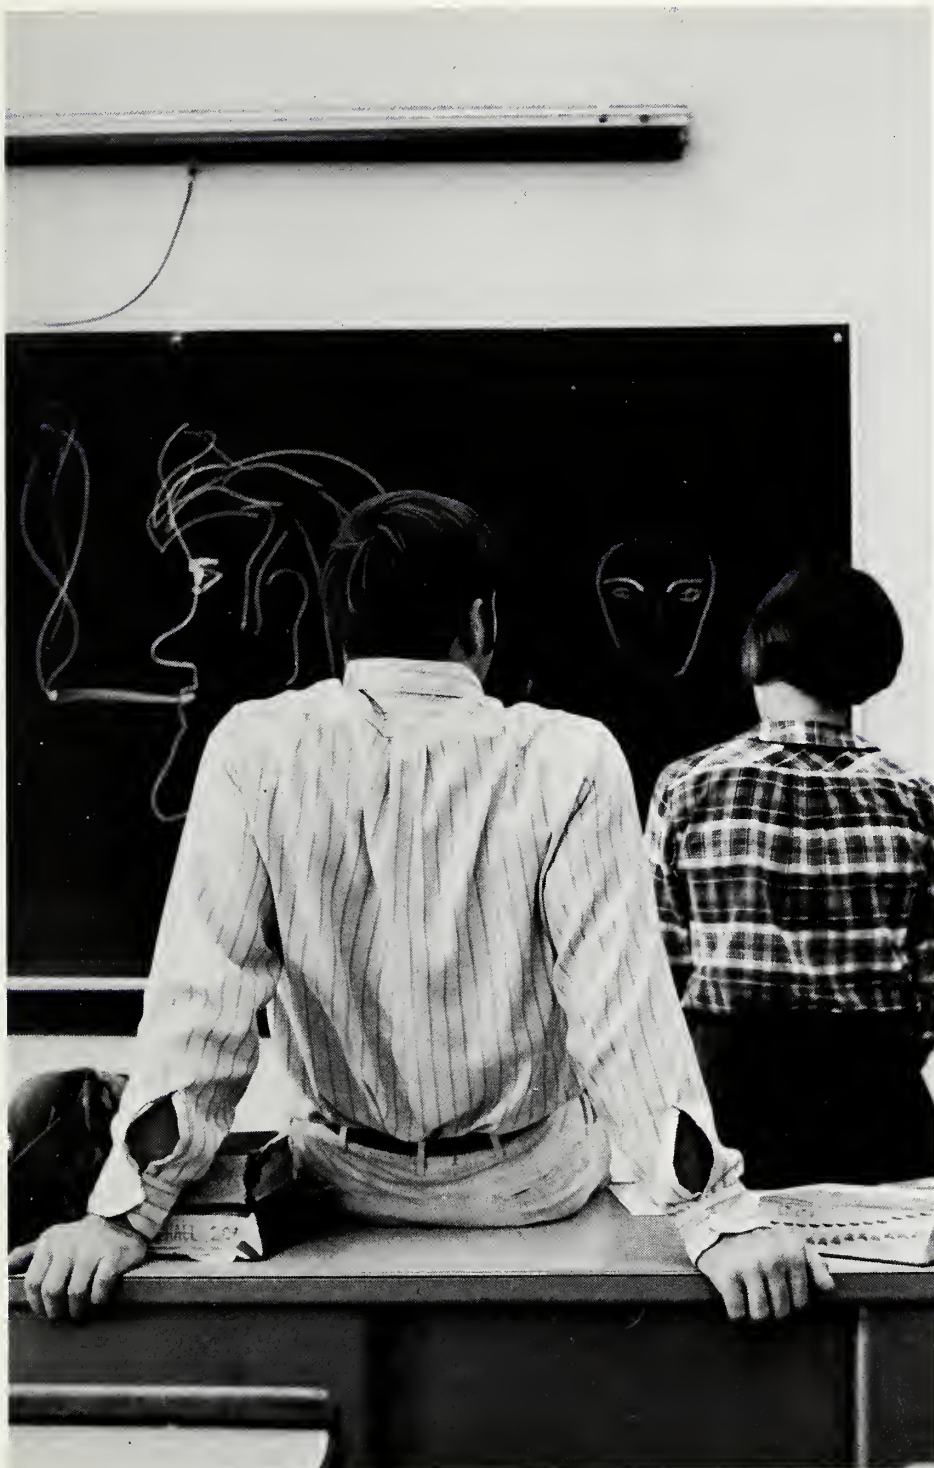

The medium consists of not all work by any means. Student activities liberally enrich classroom experiences ☐

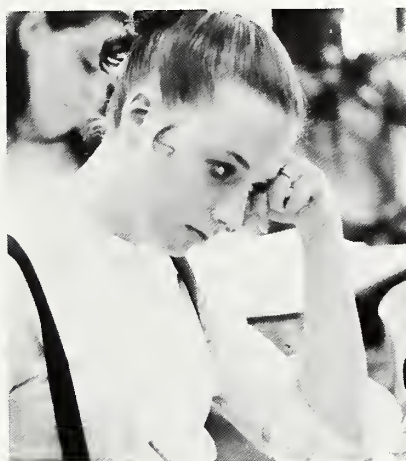

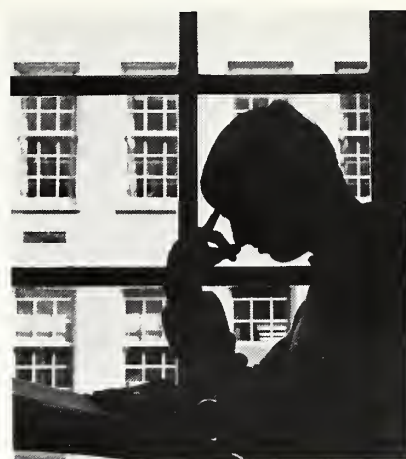

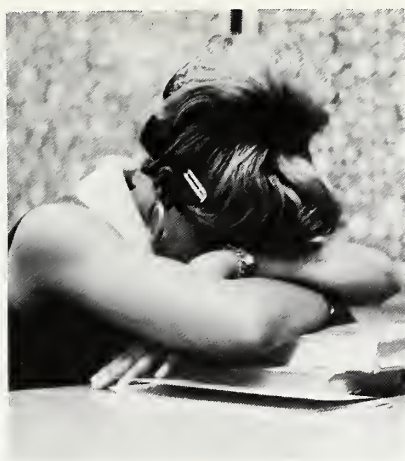

Thornton is a meeting place where the need for sharing thoughts and ideas is real, and learning and relating to others a must ☐

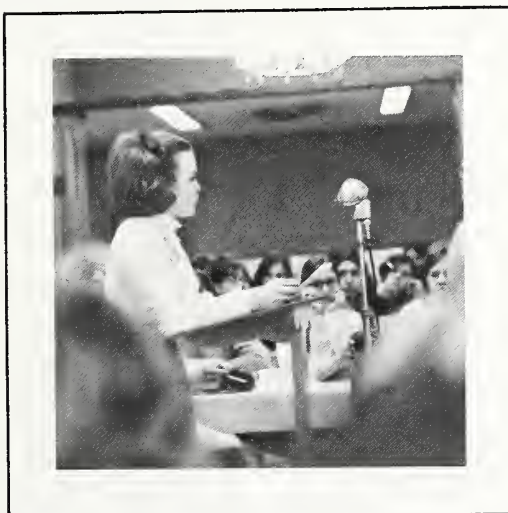

The future is determined at Thornton. A future that holds the promise of greater problems and greater rewards than ever before. A future centered on people—on you. You've got an awful lot to live, and Thornton has got an awful lot to give ☐

Activities

Homecoming! Assembly, parade and a game ... Night after night, float building ... Stage fright and opening night ... Gym jams, PX's and formal dances ... Banners, T's and hall and door decorations ... Meetings and minutes—attendance ... All of the fun of just being involved ... You've got a lot to live ... And Thornton's got a lot to give! □ Bands blared as wheels of color filled the air with flickers of light. Young bodies pop-corned. Mashed Potatoes flew through the air and splattered on the floor. Balloons subjected to tonsorial treatments exploded. The odor of sweet lollipops and garlic pickles permeated the fieldhouse atmosphere.

You guessed it, baby! The scene is the annual Pep Club Carnival, held to raise funds for Thornton clubs. It's March eighth; the fieldhouse has been transformed into a colossal circus tent. For fun and foolishness you just can't beat the Pep Club Carnival □

Prom: the synonym for the emotion and exhilaration of the most elegant event of the year. Mist of Midnight: the occasion that heralded the end of the school year and gave the seniors an opportunity to reflect upon the past four years.

The senior class sponsors, Donald McGee and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eccles, and the junior class sponsor Alfred Van Dyke even found time apart from their duties to join the gaiety of the evening in the form of dance and picture taking while the Dean of Swing Band provided the warm mood in the form of light entertainment.

The passing of the prom is like watching the setting of the sun from a Tahitian Isle, it has happened many times before, but only this once for you □

Flag Day

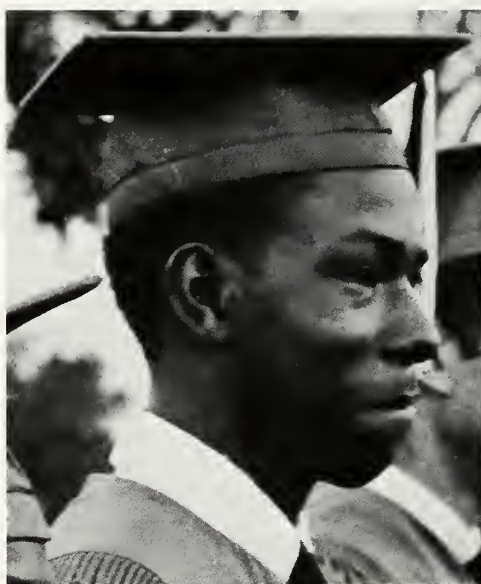

There are still a great majority of young people at Thornton Township High School who realize what it means to be American: to enjoy the rights and privileges and accept the responsibility of citizenship under the stars and stripes.

Flag day was instituted at TTHS many years ago in a spirit of pride and love for country and flag. Modern young Thorntonites cling to the tradition for they realize that there is no place known to man that has offered and offers more than the UNITED STATES □

By and large, Americans must be the best educated people who have ever existed in the history of man. And in the quest for excellence, which has always been the goal here at Thornton, the needs of each student are taken into consideration. Each student is guided through four years of instruction to make him a complete person, conscious of his rights and duties as an American citizen and responsive to the needs of his fellow man. These things are learned with great effort.

Is it surprising then, that the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" and the donning of cap and gown should arouse within the graduate warm feelings of pride and sincere satisfaction over having done the job well? Many fine and wholesome relationships kindled over the past years will be nurtured now only with great effort; the fun and frivolity of the teen years are in their last ebbing.

Eight hundred thirty-three Thorntonites bade farewell to their high school days at the seventieth commencement exercise. Many will never enter Thornton's doors again, as their new life ventures will carry them to distant places in time and space. Others surely will return, loyal Wildcat alumni.

The graduates leave the "hallowed halls" to recessional "March Militaire," never to forget the new lamps lit there and the wonderful hours of human experiences shared. Life is good and it is good to be alive □

Homecoming Events

Homecoming—Thornton's miniball, where upperclassmen and underclassmen alike come to view the crowning of the year's king and queen. Preceding this year's crowning were performances by the Harvey Highsteppers, the Klefs, and a duet composed of Carla Inglese and Keith Elliot.

Following these performances the names of the court were announced: Cathy Mech and Jim Snoddy, queen and king; Dave Groebe and Sue Stojak, prince and princess.

All the couples were asked to follow the king and queen in dancing and soon the floor was filled. All too soon the Homecoming evening was only a memory □

Enraptured by the mood of Homecoming night—Mike Czernick and Sue Smith.

Delicately gracing the final day in the month of February, Thornton's Girl's Club presented their annual Turnabout Dance. Each young Juliet asked her special Romeo and paid their admission into the dance, one of three major social events in the school year.

Couples lightly tripped fantastic moods in the Garden Room of the Thornton Cafeteria, amidst the strains of courtly music. As the gentle evening swung full circle and the young lovers departed into the starry night beyond, all were duly impressed that this night was indeed "A Time for Us" □

Turnabout Dance

PX's and Battle of Bands

Take a deep, refreshing plunge into the all encompassing cacaphony of the Now Sound! After the game, grab a PX by the horns and celebrate the victory with dance and song. PX, an honorary service organization, offers students a live band in the fieldhouse after all home football and basketball games, charging a nominal fee as the organization's sole income. Because of racial tension, the administration canceled most basketball PX's.

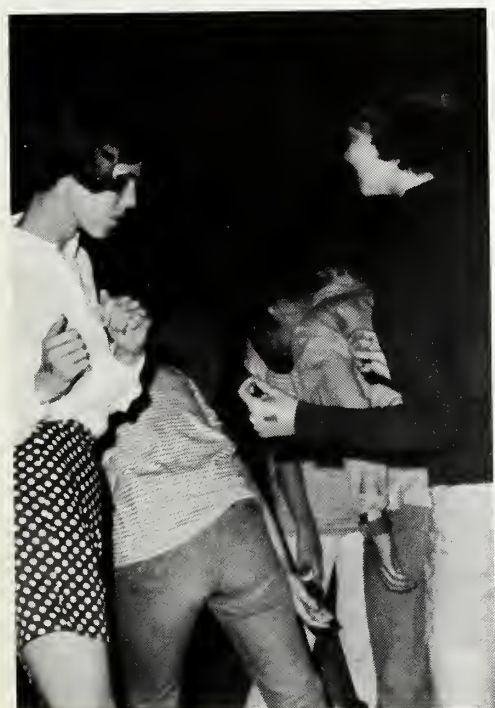

Each year a "Battle of the Bands," sponsored by the Jaycees, encourages professionalism and initiative among local rock bands. Held in Thornton's fieldhouse, this musical tournament offers monetary prizes and further competition for winning bands; this incentive provides an action-packed, electrified atmosphere for all participants. Major recording artists also provide a fine musical attraction □

Circle: PEACE to ya!

A large number of events occur each year which add significantly to the intellectual and social life of our school community. Old and new Big Sisters mingled and talked of future plans at the Big Sister Tea.

Outstanding scholars and their parents were honored at the Girl's Club and Boy's Club Scholarship Breakfast.

Faculty and local librarians viewed our library at the library read-in. This year forty members of the North Central Association evaluated our school facilities, teachers, and students □

An intersection between the activities of father and daughter, the Dad Daughter Banquet, a social engagement which is neither business for dad nor boring for daughter, presents a fine change for each to meet the other's peers on a social basis. Fathers and daughters participated in the presentation of a bouquet to Thornton's foreign exchange student from Peru, Lilliana Sevaadra. After the presentation in the auditorium there was a buffet dinner in the garden room of the cafeteria and as a treat old fashioned ice cream cones were served.

The International dinner, . . . or banquet, . . . maybe fair, . . . possibly all, literally none: no title can adequately describe—the best part of each was taken and joined together to make a royal tribute to the nationalities of man; arranged in the predictable excellence of the International club □

you seen a more sporting couple? Carleen Parrish and Dan Mead. Oval: Charles Gomez awaits his cue.

Theatre Season

Tragedy, comedy, drama and musicals are all combined in Thornton's theatre season. Scores of bright young singers displayed their fine acting talents in the spring musical, Music Man. Playing to a full house and closing with a standing ovation each night, Music Man turned out to be the biggest hit of the year.

The 1969-70 theatre season opened on a solemn note with the tragic drama, The Glass Menagerie, one of Tennessee Williams' most noted plays. Performed in Thornton's Little Theatre and typical of the season's productions, the play proved to be another success □

Theatre Season

An adaptation of Washington Irving's classic, The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, was presented as this year's children's theater production. Kiddies from surrounding areas were delighted with the adventures of the Headless Horseman. However, because of the disturbance, this play could not be presented to the public.

This year's contest play, Twenty-seven Wagons Full of Cotton, written by Tennessee Williams, is about the degeneration of the South. The play placed second in South Suburban League competition, and all three students in the cast were named to the all-league cast.

Late February brought Shakespeare and A Midsummer Night's Dream to Thornton's theater.

This play about confused lovers, helped along by the mischievous Puck's antics, delighted the audience. Special lighting and sets helped to produce an old Globe Theater effect □

Black Expo '70

To be Young . . . Gifted . . . and Black . . . sang Brinda Michall, introducing the theme of the Black Expo.

As the song vibrated on and echoed through the crowd the meaning of the theme became more apparent. The Black Expo, a show of Black talent, Black culture, Black pride—not just an exposition but an excursion into a way of life.

Brainchild of the Human Relations Club, this exposition became one of the most successful events in Thornton's history as thousands filled the gymnasium to standing room only, and watched the action of over a dozen singing groups, various dancing groups and an excellent fashion show.

As night brought the expo to a close, the proud faces of Black men and women verified the significance of being young, gifted, and Black □

Murmurs of anticipation buzzed among the students as the tension mounted, while Miss Elaine Gehring, sponsor of the National Honor Society, prepared to announce the names of the new members of this select group.

All candidates are students who rank high academically and show an interest in school and social functions. Prospective members are chosen by the faculty and a specially selected committee. This committee chooses five percent of the senior class to represent Thornton's scholars.

Each year a tea is given for the new members and their parents. The members proved themselves worthy of their honor by displaying and encouraging leadership, scholarship, character, and service to the school □

Student Council

During the beginning of the school year, one representative and an alternate are chosen from each homeroom to voice the opinions of his fellow classmen. These students comprise the student forum, the backbone of our student council.

K.I.P. has established the reputation of an organization dedicated to the improvement of the student body. Board, officers, and forum executives combine their efforts to relate ideas of the students to the faculty and administration. New issues were discussed and proper steps were taken to improve conditions important to the students of Thornton. The liberalization of the dress code was finally approved after long discussions and meetings.

Homecoming, a traditional project directed by the student council, was not as successful as organizers had predicted. It seems that herein lies the task of the student council—to reawaken the interest of the student body in school activities □

Marty Krause, K.I.P. president, helped lead student reform this year.

Chaos reigned in The Thorntonite office this year. Lack of student support early in the year almost caused the demise of the newspaper, but creative writing, new ideas and much hard work put The Thorntonite back in business and increased newspaper sales by 50%.

Staff members gave up their homeroom periods in order to give pep talks. Posters were hung in the halls throughout the school, urging students to support the paper. But the staff did not stop then, they continued to put their time, energy, and hearts into each publication, seeking to save their paper from bankruptcy.

Reporters raked every corner of Thornton's halls, searching for interesting stories which would appeal to all Thornton students. A photographer was seen at every school function, making sure that nothing was missed. Edward D. Olson, sponsor, spent many long, hard hours making sure that everything was just right for printing; then the presses would roll, and another issue of The Thorntonite would be on its way to the readers.

Hardships are not over yet however, for just as the paper stood on its feet school disturbances once again caused problems for the budding journalists—only with the help of the entire student body will The Thorntonite survive another year □

Yearbook

September. School groans to a start, and a new yearbook staff assembles. Bright, unfamiliar faces roam TC 104, and confusion reigns. But soon, very soon, each person obtains a job and begins to understand the intricate, delicate work yearbooking demands. And as each fresh face grows familiar with the concepts of yearbooking: with deadlines, copywriting, cropping and layout demands, the new staff slips quietly into the clutches of order and continuity, efficiency and competence.

December. Of course we're behind. But everyone's working together, bonded in common interest. Sorrows and joys crusade as the yearbook takes place, cementing the staff together.

June. A veteran staff, anxious with anticipation, awaits the arrival of the new book. And as they wait, they wait as one. For in the course of a year they have grown together, bonded in a common interest. That's the spirit and joy of yearbooking □

News Bureau and Profiles Magazine

New clubs, sports or activities are added to Thornton's thriving extra-curricular schedule! When these additions are announced, the News Bureau is ushered into action, pronto! In the English office four girls under the charge of Mrs. Quedens prepare the news items for publication in local newspapers. Through the course of the school year these girls learn the sundry arts of newspaper writing and editing, and are rewarded with publication.

Sensitive, creative writers huddle each day in ardent hopes to express their moods, visions and opinions through poetry, plays, themes and short stories. Together, these students work to produce Profiles, the flower of Thornton youths' literary attempts. Each year Mrs. Welke and the Profile staff collect the efforts of our high school students and choose the most polished literary creations to add to their own for publication in Profiles □

Individual Events and National Forensic League

Individual Events—Kneeling: Bill Mosie, Tony Johnson. Standing: Patty Lang, Dorothy Roome, Dawn Urbon, Stanley DeSantis, Roxanne Wallace, Elaine Chapel, Howard Weathers, Rodney Martin, Jackie Scott, Joe Goetz, Kim Schreiber, Joe Brzoska, June Norfleet, Jesse Barreda, Larlene Luke, Don Lyman, Alison Oldaker, Al Novotne, Estee Celebucke, Joyce Nowak, Zachary French, Danitra Vance, Will Barclay, Bill Mollway, Harold Cobb, Paul Septoski, John Ehlers, Margaret Abbott, Irene Johnson, Lou Ann Pavelin.

Students who excel in competitive speech are placed in the National Forensic League, an honorary speech fellowship. Clifton Gerring, TTHS's nationally known orator, is president of the organization. Having one of the largest chapters in the state, Thornton's league members travel to many dual speech tournaments, two state-wide congresses and a state-wide debate tournament.

NFL has a dual life—the organization cannot grow and be successful unless the members of the competitive speech teams grow and are successful.

Speaking is the main concern of the individual events speech team. Each member competes in one of the ten events, ranging from extemporaneous speaking to original monologue, and occasionally in a decathlon, in which he competes in all ten events.

Particularly successful this year, the team garnered a bevy of precious, shining trophies □

National Forensic League—Row 1: Rox Wallace, Howard Weathers, Joe Goetz, Becky Hamblin. Row 2: Frank Bonilla, Jesse Barreda, Zachery French, Mike Struzik, Bill Mollway, Tony

Did you ever dream of standing in a spotlight, the subject of the audience's applause and laughter? Well, this is what a Thespian dreams of. In addition to acting, constructing sets and applying make-up are also important in a role of a Thespian!

Debate, the art of organized argumentation, is a flourishing activity at Thornton. By learning to think logically, efficiently, and to speak forcefully, the debaters acquire the ability to express themselves clearly. A group of dedicated and hard working individuals, the Debate Club would like to enlist greater numbers of students to participate in their organization ☐

Junior Red Cross, Science, and Future Nurses Club

Junior Red Cross, Thornton's answer to community problems, is a group of students involved in the welfare of others. Sponsored by Mr. Devine, the club had a food drive as their major project of the year. The food was donated to the Jones Community Center.

If you are a person who enjoys doing experiments, hearing guest speakers, and exploring the world of science, then Thornton's Science Club is for you. Directed by Mr. Nelson, the Science Club participated in a fossil hunt at Wilmington, Illinois; in the science fair, and in the Wildcat Carnival.

Not yet in the profession, but willing to absorb the wonders of medicine, the members of the Future Nurses Club prepared themselves for a nursing career. With their sponsor, Mrs. Fox, these future nurses participated in a number of field trips to local hospitals—interviewing and observing the daily routines of a nurse □

Future Nurses Club—Clockwise: Pam Williams, Cynthia Barnes, Jo Kelliher, Gail Wooten, Georgia Brown.

Latin and German Club

"Et Tu Brute!" and you, too, can join the Latin Club by simply enrolling in a Latin class. Each month members embark on a make-believe journey to ancient Rome, learning about the government, society and culinary delights. Exciting dynamic chariot races are held in which the students can actively test and increase their knowledge in an informal atmosphere.

Interested in the language and geography of Germany? Then the German Club can help you towards a new concept of Germany today. This club participated in such school activities as the International Dinner, the Pep Club Carnival and a Christmas party. A trip to Milwaukee was the highlight of the year □

For those students who are interested in a career in the teaching profession, Thornton offers membership in its chapter of the Future Teachers of America Club. Serving as student teachers and teacher's aides, F.T.A. members learn from actual situation experiences.

F.T.A. president, Anne Zimmerman, was responsible for gathering materials and arranging programs helpful and significant to the budding pedagogues.

In Perigon Club, students have an opportunity to meet and exchange ideas with other students who have mathematical interests. Club activities include meetings, field trips, fund raising projects and the National Mathematics Contest in March □

French Club and International Club

French Club, a new addition to extra-curricular activities, offers members participation in many fun-filled projects. Every Wednesday, meetings are held for special level representatives who discuss what activities French students would like to participate in. During Christmas, members visited the Museum of Science and Industry to experience an international Christmas and gourmets tasted a bit of French cuisine provided by members at the International Fair.

Study of foreign countries is also the basis of International Club. Fellowship between foreign countries is carried out through many activities. This organization not only helps to welcome and make foreign students feel at home, but it also is a source of financial aid to those from TTHS who are going abroad. Projects included the International Fair, Flag Day and the traditional bike hike □

O.O., D.O. and D.E. Clubs

Guidance in the field of marketing is offered by Thornton's Distributive Education Club. Annual D.E. outings include trips to the Board of Trade, the Chicago Tribune and the Merchandise Mart. Such activities as bowling, and an annual candy sale keep members busy.

Thornton's three-year old organization that gives young, ambitious students chances to gain useful experience and skills in today's business world is Office Occupations. As fund raising projects, the club puts on annual bake and candy sales.

For the non-college bound student Thornton offers a club which has been in existence since 1955, Diversified Occupations. Under the supervision of Mr. Bendle, each of the twenty-five members are apprenticed in a trade or skill that will prepare him for a shop career □

Girls Club

Remember those little (stuffed) animals running around school in December? Or how about "dancing" Daisies on Daisy Day? Girls Club sponsored both activities. With the aid of Mrs. Jean Simpson, sponsor, the club offers girls a wide variety of activities; if you have a special interest you can join one of the many sub-clubs directed by Linda Vaughn, sub-club Coordinator.

In existence since 1916, Girls Club has grown to almost 800 members. Due to this vast growth, the Club has been able to contribute funds to numerous foreign exchange programs. Many awards are given through Girls Club such as Junior and Senior Service Awards, given to girls who have devoted the most amount of time and effort to Girls Club and have shown outstanding leadership throughout their junior or senior year. T-Pins are earned by freshmen and sophomore girls who have contributed twenty-five hours of service to Girls Club. The Torch Pin is given for outstanding work to a girl in either her junior or senior year.

This year the Girls Club has sponsored the Dad-Daughter Banquet, the Mother-Daughter Theatre Party, the Girls Club Turnabout Dance, Daisy Day, and the Mother-Daughter Banquet □

Boys' Club

Promoting good will and fellowship among the people of Thornton is the main purpose of Thornton's Boys Club. The March of Dimes and numerous other activities such as gym jams, banquets, candy sales, the annual Boys Club Dance, a trip to Florida, two Exchange Days with Eisenhower and Thornridge, and the Chicago Bulls' basketball games are the ways in which Thornton's Boys Club strives to unite the students through social recreation.

Club officers and board members meet weekly with their new sponsor, Mr. Cameli, who helps guide President Gary Ramsy and the other officers in making important decisions, in solving problems that arise, and in suggesting ideas for a better social program.

No special skill or ability is needed to join Boys Club, just the desire for fun and fifty cents for a membership card. With this your name can be added to the list with the club's 650 other members □

This year Gary Ramsey, Boy's Club President, led the Boy's Club in many activities.

Human Relations Club—Harold Cobb, Helene Weathers, Sharon Nelson, Omie O'Neil, Edward Brundidge, Sharon Thompson, Kim Anderson. Right: Al Raby, featured speaker at Human Relations meeting.

Human Relations Club, Key Club and Bookstore Aids

"United we stand, divided we fall" is the motto of the Human Relations Club members who may have had their greatest year in 1969-70. They featured speakers such as Al Raby and sponsored the Black Expo: an event which drew close to 2000 people and exhibited the Black arts and talents from the South Suburban area.

Sponsored by Mrs. Joan Greenwood the members strive to better student—student and student—faculty relations. They seem to be saying "no matter how hard you try, you can't top us now."

Key Club, an elite and benevolent organization is instrumental in sponsoring fund raising drives for worthy charities. They hold the annual Kiwanis peanut sale and they sponsor the Bermuda Hop, the proceeds of which go to a worthy organization.

Miss DeYoung would be a sorry sight rather than a welcome sight if it wasn't for the bookstore aids, who help in the managing and organization of the High School Bookstore. They are especially helpful during the beginning of the year and the hectic semester break □

Bookstore Aides—Barbara Gallagher, Sandy Mulder, Dan Glogowski, Peggy Weddington, Kathy Gifford, Dan Derientz, Nick Falica, Gerry Stepenski.

Key Club—Curt Powley, Pal Sartori.

A Liberette has an excellent opportunity as a group member to learn library research skills while serving students and faculty efficiently. Under the superb guidance of Miss Waller, each Liberette acquires the experience of a library clerk. Three officers are elected out of fifty-three members to keep the group in financial and working order. An annual spring conference is held for the Chicagoland librarians each spring. At these meetings they honor the senior Liberettes.

For the theatre's ten years of existence, the Theatre Technicians have directed, organized, manipulated, and assembled theatrical performances. Mr. Menozi, their sponsor, helps the technicians get all productions off to a running start □

Camera Club—Philip Jones, President; Jim Murray, Vice-President; Jim Scheffke, Secretary-Treasurer.

One of the most popular and outstanding features of Thornton home swim meets is the swim team timers, clad in their special t-shirts and shorts. Among the many activities of the timers, (besides beautifying the pool surroundings), is printing and circulating the Catfish News, a record of the performances and skills of our swimmers. In addition to timing, keeping score and announcing swimmers and events, these lovely little mermaids boost the spirit of the swimmers.

Pictures taken of most of the school events are submitted by the Camera Club. Many times, these photos are seen in our school newspaper.

Camera Club also makes money by photographing couples at the Girls Club Dance, Homecoming and Prom.

These pictures serve as precious memories for years to come □

New things were happening at Thornton this year and among these was: Students Organized Under Love (SOUL) of Blackness, a new club designed to enlighten and inform the student body about the cultural advancements of the Afro-American people. Ted Owens, along with other officers and the President's Advisory Board of SOUL, helped the club to get started in its first trying year.

Interesting times were spent at SCLC's Operation Breadbasket and the Afro-Arts Theatre, while many informative moments were spent at the Black Unity Bookstore, Black People's Topographical Center and the Black History Museum. SOUL has sponsored a tutoring program for black students so as to promote scholarship among Americans of African descent, and has plans to sponsor a scholarship program for deserving black students.

From a small office came great activity as Thornton's PX did their thing.

Throughout the year PX sponsored several dances after home football and basketball games. The dances were looked forward to with great anticipation but many were cancelled because of student unrest. In addition to the dances, the PX used their warm hearts and pleasing voices to spread Christmas cheer throughout Ingall's Memorial Hospital and Heather Manor convalescent home □

Symphonic Band

The taste of a reed is common to oboist Jackie Chambers.

With a raise of the baton, Mr. Sparks brings to life Thornton's stringed expression of Beethoven's Concertos. The Symphonic Band, a first in Thornton's history, was an active group throughout the year.

Becoming a member of this outstanding group requires the completion of level-1 skills and 3rd class musicianship requirements. The total membership of the Symphonic Band is limited and smaller than the Concert Band.

Sectional rehearsals for brass, percussion, and woodwind instruments supplement the five-day-a-week rehearsal of the entire band. Each class period includes training in concert and symphonic band material and marching during football season and sightreading and training in rehearsal techniques □

Junior Varsity and Concert Band

With a trill of trumpets and a thunderous roll of the timpani, the Concert Band began a new school year. The sixty-five piece orchestra, pepped up home basketball games by leading the spectators in the school song and lively half-time melodies.

Playing in the Concert Band demands, not only a vast musical knowledge, but a fine ear for harmony. The sixty-five bandsmen attempt to play as a group not as individuals. Each must know how their instrument intertwines with the other to make balanced time.

After many hours of practice the Concert Band was ready to participate in the Illinois State Band Solo and Ensemble Contest. The band also displayed their talents in a spring concert.

The source of musical talent does not stop here. Under the experienced baton of H. Daniel Mensing, Thornton's JV Band produced delightful entertainment at the spring concert and home basketball games □

Marching Band

Township High School Marching Band, directed by Mr. Bob Sparks.

Each game the Marching Band aroused the hidden spirit of the Wildcat fans with such current favorites as "The Lonely Bull" and "Music to Watch Girls By".

Subtle "Ooooo's and "Ahhh's" emerge from the crowds as band members form letters and shapes, keeping the spectators entertained.

Practicing for hours on end, the Marching Band—ever facing the blistering winds, and the driving rains—marches on □

Boys Glee Club

Each year a minor miracle takes place in room 101. Baffled and confused freshmen meet with hope to unite eventually in vocal harmony and expression. As their first year rolls along these freshmen boys, once an odd handful of bewildered youths, work ardently with their director, Mr. Campbell, to attain musical fidelity. Throughout this year, the Freshmen Boys Choir work at unity and harmony in preparation for their major public appearance: Thornton's Choral Concert.

Finally the day arrives. Bedecked in white shirts, dark trousers and shining shoes, the boys' choir sings with joy

Freshman Girls Choir

Sheet music, harmonizing, scales and notes are introduced to musically interested and talented female Thornton newcomers in the Freshman Girls Choir. Young voices are auditioned for this choir in the spring of their eighth grade year and the promising voices are then scheduled into Freshman Girls Choir.

Early in the semester, Mrs. Karen French, director, works diligently to instill an understanding of music in the seventy-five members. These young voices then learn to blend on thrilling crescendoes and harmonize on favorite old time tunes.

During the year, the choir prepared for their first high school performance, the Annual Choral Concert. From this choir the girls may move onto one of the more exclusive choirs at Thornton □

Freshmen are given an opportunity in Freshmen Mixed Choir to improve their singing and to prepare themselves for advancement into upper choirs. This assemblage is superior to the other freshmen vocal groups because its members are the best that the class of 1973 can offer.

Try-outs were held in spring, while candidates were still in eighth grade.

Directed by Mrs. Phyllis Scott, Thornton's Freshmen Mixed Choir accommodated seventy-five students, the largest membership this choir has had in the entire six years of its existence.

Members of the choir were quite busy this year travelling to many nearby schools to sing in concerts. The most important event of the year, however, was the Choral Concert, which is held each spring □

Intermediate Choir

Existing for the benefit of students interested in vocal development, Intermediate Choir offers young voices an opportunity to express themselves in song. Membership is opened to all sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have an interest in music. Every spring tryouts are held for those who wish to become members of this choral group. Before becoming a member of Intermediate Choir, students learn the basic skills of music in Glee Clubs and Freshmen Mixed Choir.

Under the musical direction of Mr. Richard Campbell, each member tries to provide himself with a broad musical background. Complex musical skills are studied and intricate rhythms are practiced during the class period.

Forty-five voices combine in unison to the tunes of today's rock, pop, and classical chords. So if you are ambitious, and searching for musical advancement, Intermediate Choir is for you □

Guys and dolls swinging to the gay, lively, syncopated rhythms and rich blends of contemporary music—Thornton's celebrated Concert Choir. Interested people with a busy job, demanding each voice to produce top quality, group oriented music.

Representing Thornton's most polished, large singing ensemble, Concert Choir's members work long hours to arrive at perfection in the varied songs they sing. The fruit of the other mixed choirs, Concert Choir represents a select group of young vocalists.

Because of the well-known talent of these young singers, and the amazing "hustling" ability of Mr. Campbell, choir director, these people are in constant demand in the suburban area. This year the choir highlighted their travels by visiting Canada. Ottawa and Niagara Falls provided these young singers with a fascinating, scenic adventure and a well-deserved reward not soon to be forgotten □

If you walked through the music hall during first period this year, you were sure to hear the sweet, angelic voices of Girls Choir practicing for one of their many concerts. The choir performed at the Daniel's Chapel Fall Tea and were also involved in the Christmas program at the Museum of Science and Industry. Besides taking these trips to sing, the Girls Choir also displayed their talents at many school concerts, including the Christmas Concert, Annual Choral Concert, and the Pops Concert.

The director, Mrs. Phyllis Scott, tries to promote an appreciation of all types and phases of music and musical expression. For many lucky and talented girls, Girls Choir is an artistic outlet and possibly a stop-over on their climb to the top of Thornton's musical scale □

Outside frosty flakes flutter against an ashen sky. The theatre is warm—the seats, plush and comfortable. We are in the main theatre on a December afternoon. The lights dim and the sounds of “Here We Come a Caroling” fill the house. As heads turn one can easily identify the formally clad singers as the Madrigals.

Directed by Mr. Richard Campbell, this group has reached the epitome of musical achievement at Thornton. All members have an exceptional singing voice, an extensive apprehension of musical terms and expressions as well as a well-practiced ability to read music.

Adding a more informal type of singing to Thornton are the Klefs. Their repertoire reaches from religious tunes and classical music, to popular music and show tunes □

Enthusiastic grins and wild bursts of applause tumble from the stands to intersperse with the lithe, pirouetting figures of T-ettes performing their adaption of "Cabaret." Many half-time breaks at football and basketball games are enlivened by the poise, color and imagination of these soulful strutters.

To the casual observer, the T-ette routine is simple and flowing, but a glance behind the scenes reveals the hard, strenuous work involved. The sponsor, Mrs. Arlene Bruno closely directs the daily T-ette practices, which involve clock-work precision. Skill, attention and stamina blend as the group rehearse their highly syncopated and flashy routines □

It doesn't take much teasing from Kathy Sorensen, Nancy Onak, Sue Macander and Paula Garry to make you see red.

T-ettes—Standing: Jan Lapp, Linda McAley, Linda Kellbach, Pam Cravens, Julie Gigler, Laurel Lotz, Sue Banasiak, Julie Payne, Peggy Wed-

Orchesis—Cindy Barnes, Peggy Szabo, Laurel Lotz, Sherry Shau, Ellen Maxwell, Linda Pawlik, Celia Pala, Nancy Hunn, Nancy Walsh, Nancy Inman.

Orchesis

Form was the key word in Orchesis, which is why the girls strove to perfect it. Without correct form, the girls cannot express themselves through their dances; their body motions must be smooth and precise. Orchesis met once a week to practice and devise dances. These twenty-one young ladies displayed their talent in the Modern Dance Kaleidoscope this winter. Listening to the music, they expressed their feelings through body waves, stag leaps, Swedish falls and turns. In effect, Orchesis is soulful expression of music, harmony, and rhythm through dance movements. Through participation in Orchesis, a girl can express her emotions as well as learn the gracefulness of dance □

Orchesis—Louise Mierwa, Cindy Teaque, Nancy Koneck, Cathy Cook, Kathy Herbeck, Kris Whitney, Alma Cummings, Carla Inglese, Sue Osika, Nancy House, Michele O'Conner.

Cheerleaders

Soaring school spirit into the seventies, the Thornton cheerleaders, expertly supervised by Miss Chisholm, exposed their pep and enthusiasm at all pep assemblies, football and basketball games. These vivacious yellqueens reflect all the inspiration that has always been a vital part of boosting the fervor of the student body.

Sophomore girls who are interested in attempting to join the cheerleading squad must attend several work sessions in the spring, where they are coached in the basic jumps, hand motions, gymnastic stunts, and cheers. These abilities, plus pep, attitude, leadership and coordination combine to form the basis for the judge's final decision.

Awaiting these eager sophomores is months of practice and hard work to attain perfected skills. Possessing an eagerness to develop their abilities, these girls eye the coming year with anticipation □

It's halftime now; the attention of all the fans is on the playing area. The band begins to play and out strut eight purple-clad Twirlers, batons whirling.

Brightening up the football and basketball games in their spangles and sparkles the Twirlers, under the guidance of Mrs. Peggy Pence, displayed their talents by manipulating fiery batons. Good ideas, and active imagination and precision are needed to be a twirler.

Another group of girls who always shine are Thornton's Highsteppers.

Each year, Highsteppers entertain masses of Thornton students at school dances and basketball games. Besides changing their name from Harvey hoofers to Harvey Highsteppers, this talented group has also increased its membership from eight to ten, making their dances that much more enjoyable □

Pep Club and Castalinas

Back dolphins, submarines, ballet legs, and catalinas are just four of the many stunts a Castilina member learns. They use their swimming talents, stunts and precisioned movements to express themselves in aquatic dance.

Castilinas are girls interested in swimming creatively and competitively. This year the girls were also given the opportunity to earn their senior life-saving card.

Membership was determined by one's ability to master the water skills. Tryouts were held in the spring and fall and the stunts were taught in workshops. In combining grace in swimming forms and a hidden element of allusion and mystique with water, the Castilinas create expressive dance patterns.

The purpose of this athletic organization is to develop higher standards of sportsmanship. In order to secure this year's funds, Lettermen's Club sold programs at football games and operated concession stands during basketball season. At the end of the year the Lettermen's banquet was held to welcome all the new members who have earned their well deserved awards.

Boys are not the only ones that can participate in sports at Thornton. The Girls Athletic Association is designed to give girls the opportunity to develop athletic skills. Members of G.A.A. can participate in gymnastics, volleyball, basketball, and swimming □

The Season

Capturing their fifth football crown in six years, the Thornton Wildcats were led to victory under the fine coaching of head coach Frank Bauman. After the first win over Thornridge, four victories over Eisenhower, Bloom, Richards, and Thornridge followed.

Then with these five victories under their belt, the Cats faced the Eisenhower Cardinals. To the crowd's surprise, the Blue Island brigade stunned Thornton 13-12. The loss seemed to cut the Cats' vigor, and they went under a second time to Marion of Indiana by the score of 26-6.

Coach Bauman's troops regained their spirit after suffering two setbacks, smashing the Richards Bulldogs 53-0, to beat out Thornridge and Eisenhower for the league crown □

The Season

When Bill Gunnell went in for the first touchdown of the season, Thornton took a 6-0 lead over Thornridge. But as the game ended, our sophomore standouts met a disastrous finish, 28-6. The Cat's hopes were up when the Eisenhower Cardinals arrived, but again the sophomores were dumped, 12-0. The Wildcats continued their string of blunders as they managed only 26 points in six games before they upset Richards, 14-6.

It was possibly Coach Boghosian's most disastrous season since 1968. There were some bright spots as sophomore signal caller Kevin Klausner and explosive halfback Bill Gunnell showed their talent, but Coach Boghosian's troops ended the season with a meager 1-6 record and finished in the cellar of the South Suburban League □

The Season

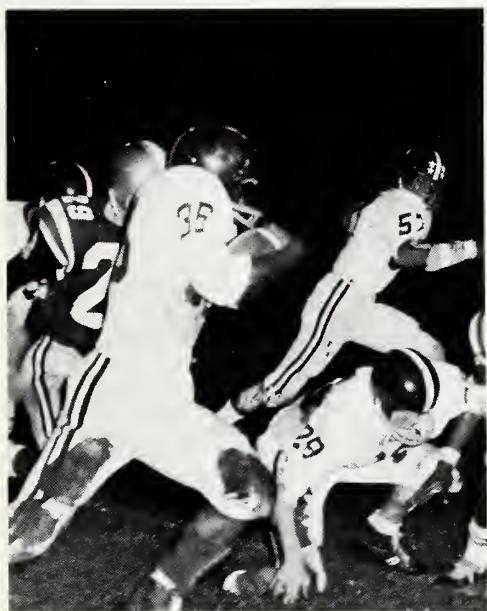

A balanced offense and defense were the key to success for the freshman football squad. The season included three big wins over the powerhouse teams of Eisenhower, Richards, and Bloom, and another successful outing against Bogan.

The season began with a stunning loss to arch rival Thornridge, 22-0. Not to be discouraged, the mighty freshman played their best game, rolling over Eisenhower, 26-8. The next two games were successful also, Thornton winning squeakers over Richards and Bloom, 20-16 and 14-6.

Carrying a three game winning streak into their second encounter with Thornridge, the freshman finally were halted by the slim margin of 14-0. Their next game against Eisenhower was also unsuccessful, 20-6, but they rose to the challenge in their final contest of the season against Bogan, whipping them 16-14 □

The Season

As Carroll Young crossed the finish line, Thornton secured second place in their opening triangular meet with Rich East and Joliet Central. The Cats poured on the speed as they crumbled Oak Lawn 23-32. Coach Hayse's hardcore ran past Richard's mighty Bulldogs and nosed out Bloom 22-23. Unsuccessful in their next two encounters, the Trackcats finished the season third behind Thornridge and Richards.

Thornton's frosh-soph squad had a disappointing season under rookie coach Paul Mayer as they ended the season with a lone victory over Richards, 24-31 □

The Season

Sporting a 15-4 record and featuring a string of underclassmen, Coach Hanrahan's team proved to be one of the best in the state.

Lead by seniors Ed Herring and Lloyd Batts, the Cats encountered highly ranked LaGrange in their season opener, only to be caught from behind in a 60-57 seesaw battle. The Cats trampled St. Patrick, gained momentum by trouncing Bloom 59-50, and went on into the Centraillia tournament, only to be stopped in the final game by unbeaten East Moline.

The stunned Wildcat squad took a loss to Waukegan before they gave Richards their annual shellacking. The Cats smashed Hinsdale and Eisenhower, with Lloyd Batts outscoring the Cardinals 45-44. Coach Hanrahan's troops managed to squeak past Thornridge 65-64 and Moline 68-64, but they received their fourth loss at the hands of Bloom 60-56. After smashing Elgin Larkin they twice broke the century mark, 108-75 over Richards and 109-77 over Glenbard West □

The Season

A top contender for the league crown, Coach McGee's marauders finished with an overall 9-5 record and 4-4 in conference. Lead by spectacular guards in Ed Lehman and Andrae Scurlock, the Wildkits took their first opponent at LaGrange 55-52. They rambled on disgracing St. Patrick 48-39 before league champion Bloom nudged the Kits 51-44. Regaining their momentum, the sophs dumped Morton East and Bradley, but again their string was broken, this time by Thornridge. The Kits came back to beat Bloom in the Bloom sophomore tournament but were unable to beat them in conference games. The sophs had one of the highest scoring teams around, averaging well over 50 points per game. Forwards Carl Richardson and Paul Southall proved to be productive in scoring and on the boards □

The Season

Though the season record was an embarrassing 4 and 10, the Matcats proved to be a determined team when they captured the South Suburban League Crown; this was the first league title in the last three years. The Matchamps were coached by Dick Bruno and Richard Tesar.

Heading the grapplers to the championship were such standouts as Captain Mike Myers—137, Milton McMurtry—145, James Porter—165, James Snoddy—155 and David Young—175, each of whom placed first in the conference.

The SSL Championship was due to a genuine team effort. There was strong support from Jim Eichorst—107, Reginald Wiggins—115, Eric Reed—123, Henry Simmons—130, John Dixon—185, and Al Jones—HWT. The Matcats also proved that they were not only powerful in conference but also in district as they walked away with the District Wrestling Championship □

The Season

Led by all-stater Tim Murphy, the varsity swim team rolled to one of their finest seasons, compiling a 3-4 record against very tough opponents. In the first encounter of the year, the Swimcats met Bishop Noll, only to lose 31-64, but rose to the challenge in their second meet to beat powerful Thornton Fractional South. The third battle of the year proved futile, as Thornton lost to Tinley Park. The next two encounters were against South Suburban League foes, and the Swimcats whipped Bloom by the substantial margin of 65-30, but lost to state-ranked Thornridge, 27-68. Thornton's Trackcats jumped off on the right foot by collecting a 2nd at Oak Park, their first quadrangular meet. After downing powerful Morton East, the speedy Wildcats dominated the 880 relay in top state timing. In a triangular meet, the Trackcats fell as they surrendered to York and Maine West. Thornton again came face to face with Morton East in an Invitational at Morton East and the Cats ran circles around their opponents as they took a fourth. Not knowing when to stop, Coach Hayse's Hustlers came up against always tough Bloom and lost a squeaker to the Trojans.

The Season

Racing off to a good start, Thornton's Trackcats outran, out-jumped and out-muscled tough Morton East 80-30, quickly establishing the Thornton track tradition of power.

Competently moving out of a field of fifteen schools, the mighty Trackcats placed fourth in the Morton East Invitational. Trackcat success was shouldered by such speed merchants as David Peterson and Steve Lowe. Thornton quickly moved on to face invincible Bloom, only to be bulldozed by the strong Bloom team 20-80. But Trackcats such as David Cobb, Pharlis James and Captain Mike Stringfellow refused to sit quietly and lick wounds, and quickly captured a seventh place at the Proviso West Invitational □

The Season

From the minute Larry Powell stepped up to lead off the first inning until Greg Mathey struck out the last man, Thornton's 1969 edition of the Batcats gave the fans something to cheer about as they compiled an 11-5 season slate. Leading the team in the batting department was Stan Jackson who hit .363. Stan was followed closely by Robin Wallerstedt, a switch hitter who averaged .354.

Handling the mound chores were right-handed senior Dan Zahara and junior standout Greg Mathey. During the season, the Cats mound crew posted three shutouts and held their opponents to an anemic .220 batting average.

The Batcats had their best game of the season when they whipped the Eisenhower Cardinals 22-8 in a slugfest which featured seven homeruns □

The Season

As Steve Scheffers singled to left in the bottom of the seventh, the sophomore Batcats came to life. But the Cats's rally fell short and as the game ended Thornton had been whipped 12-3 in the season opener by the Eisenhower Cardinals. It was a long season for Milt Marley's Marauders who compiled a 4-7 season mark. It wasn't until the Batcats took on Hammond in the third game of the year that they pulled out their first win, a 6-4 trouncing which looked mighty good in the eyes of the sophomore squad. But the Cats were dumped 6-1, on their next outing by the Richards club. Of the seven remaining games, the sophomore standouts garnered 3 wins and 4 losses □

The Season

Thornton's Freshman Batcats proved to be ready and willing by winning their opener against the Eisenhower Cardinals. They surpassed the birds in both hitting and fielding and went ahead to win 8-6. After the victory over Eisenhower, Coach Evan's Commandos ran into trouble falling to their arch-rival Thornridge 11-4. Supported by the pitching of Ed Lehman and the hitting of Joe Kartch, the Batcats were able to garner a 5-2 victory over Richards. Thornton engaged in a 13-12 slugfest with Tinley Park in which the freshman stickers came out on top. Once again Coach Evan's nine challenged the Redbirds, beating them 7-6. The Cats continued their winning streak by taking Rich East 6-4, squeaking past Rich Central and Bloom, 8-7 and 5-4. In their final game, the Bulldogs of Richards took out their revenge on the freshman standouts as Thornton fell 17-1 and completed their season with a record of 7 wins and 2 losses □

Thornton's Trackcats ran, hurdled, and vaulted their way to a season which included only one loss. The sole setback was at the hands of their South Suburban rival, the mighty Bloom Trojans.

In the Waukegan Relays Thornton placed seventh of fifteen squads. Another tournament which saw the track speedsters produce plenty of power was the Mooseheart Relays at which Thornton placed ninth among the field of more than twenty-five schools. Many records were broken at Mooseheart such as the 880 Relay record broken by the team of Larry O'Neal, Reginald Murff, Archie Highler, and James Bass. While Ralph Williams gave both high hurdle and pole vault records trouble.

Thornton's men of speed did their thing at the conference meets, capturing again, second place behind Bloom. Ralph Williams had no trouble winning the conference and state pole vault events with a vault record of 14 feet. Desire and determination were instilled by Coach Jack Hayse, assistant coaches Ed Fredette, Steve Toth, and Sylvester Robertson.

The Season

Thornton's frosh-soph speed demons proved to be an able-bodied team in the win column. The Trackcats won 3 of 5 meets. In the exciting opener Thornton ran and hurdled themselves to a 68-60 victory over the Cards of Eisenhower. After the smiles and laughter of the opening win, Thornton's Trackcats' happy faces turned sad as they fell 54-75 to the tough Bloom Trojans. It didn't take the Cats long to overcome this loss, as they ran circles around Bremen with a final score of 104-20. The Trackcats didn't stop there; they overcame Richard's Bulldogs by a score of 72-55. With the final duel meet coming up the Cats were to face arch-rival Thornridge. The Trackcats endeavored to triumph, but fell to the Falcons 52-75. With the end of season near, the Cats had one more important meet, the South Suburban League Conference.

Freshman-Sophomore Spring Track

Thornton's courageous Cats placed second of five schools: Thornridge (1), Thornton (2), Bloom (3), Eisenhower (4), and Richards (5). Two individuals broke records. Harold Gifford set a sophomore record of 11'6" in the pole vault event, and Steve Ford set a 52'0 record in the shot putt. Trackmen with great potential who should be a winning factor in the future of Thornton track are John Bass, Donald Bibbie, Steven Ford, Harold Gifford, Michael Johnson, and James Lo-Cicero □

Varsity Tennis

The Season

Led by Don Churchill and Kevin Morrey, the varsity tennis squad completed one of its most impressive seasons with a 10-4 record. Coach Sutor's standouts started off the season by walking over Bremen 5-0 and taking both Eisenhower and Oak Lawn by a score of 4-1. The Cats suffered a letdown as they were dumped on their next two encounters, but they recovered and won their next five matches, including another trouncing of Bremen. But once again the Cats ran into tough opposition and suffered their third loss of the season to Homewood-Flossmoor. Out of the remaining three matches, the varsity squad captured two victories, one each from Richards and Tinley Park. The Wildcats were District Co-Champions with Rich Central and Thornridge who had been the squad's main challenge all season □

The Season

When Coach Vrba headed for the locker room on opening day, he had a 5-0 shutout victory over Bremen under his belt. But as the season grew older things were not so merry for the fresh-soph squad and their commander as they posted a meager 4-10 season record. After their opening win the Cats dropped three in a row before they pulled out their second triumph of the season. They dropped their next meet to arch rival, Thornridge, before they took a win in their following encounter with Rich Central. Of the remaining seven games the Cats managed only one victory, a 3-2 shellacking of Richards □

The Season

As Mike Jankowski sank a 15 foot putt on the 9th hole—the 1969 edition of the Thornton Wildcat golf squad had their first taste of victory. The match was their season opener against Eisenhower. It was a convincing win for Coach Smith and company and they rambled on defeating Richards in their second encounter.

As the Thornridge meet approached it appeared as if the team had met their equal, but the Cats came through, with little effort, to finish in a draw with their fine feathered Falcon friends.

At this point Thornton's fairway troops slumped, losing seven of their final eight matches, to end with a 2-7-2 mark ☐

Summer Session

For those students who wish to turn summer time into opportunity time, Thornton offers a full program of exciting courses. One thousand and forty-three eager minds partook of the thirty-three learning opportunities provided last summer, which included the ever popular driver education instruction as well as an introductory course in the communications media.

There were field trips galore after the regular morning session. Interested student groups visited the Field Museum of Natural History, picnicked at the Glenwood Forest, toured the state capital, observed pollution sites along the Calumet River, and savored the aromas of the kitchens of Sara Lee.

Actually, a mind expanding course at Thornton takes only 120 hours of the more than 2,164 set aside for vacation time □

The approach to chemistry covers concepts like equations and qualitative analysis. Physics, the conclusion of Thornton's science adventures, introduces upperclassmen to worlds of natural phenomena, force and motion.

Mathematics Department

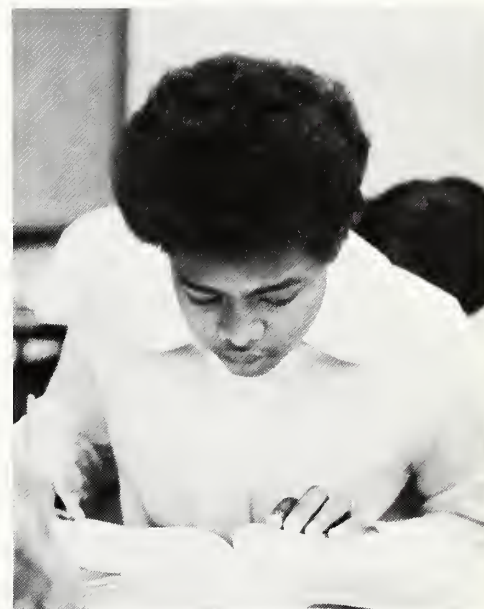

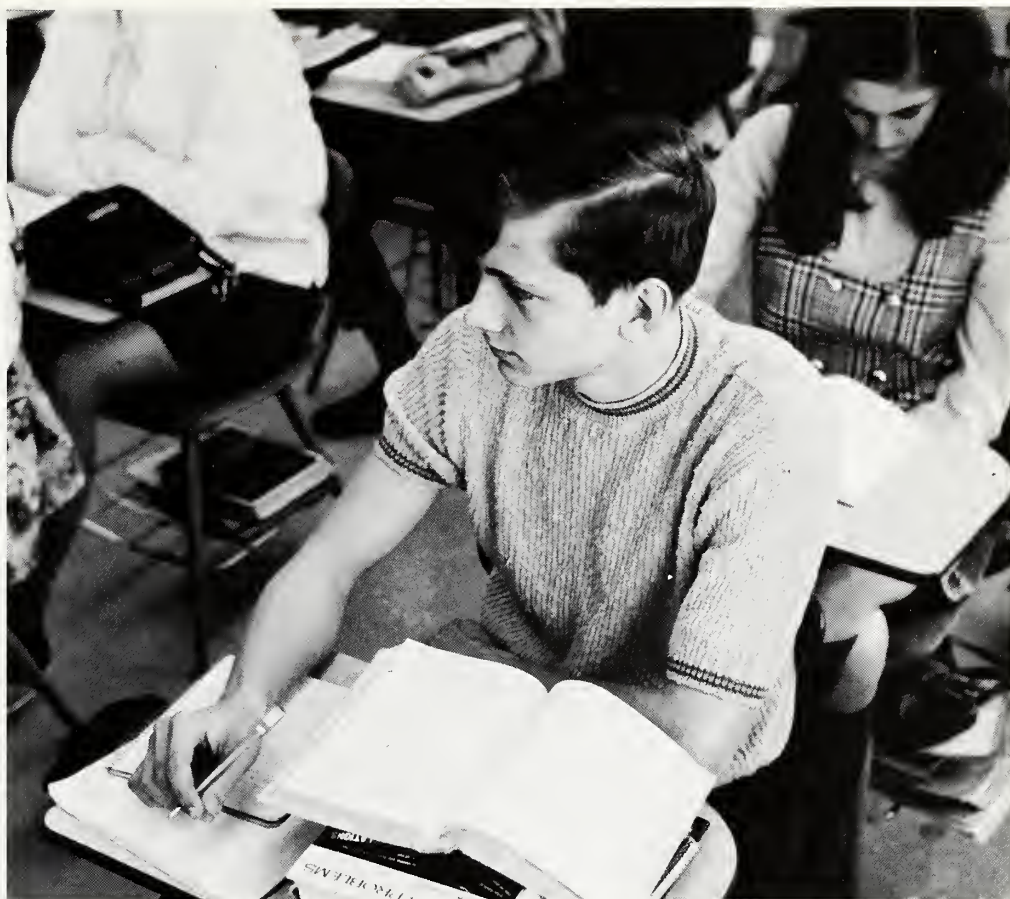

Advanced concepts of teaching modern mathematics are employed by Thornton's Mathematics Department and equip each student with the necessary mathematical skills for life in our growing technological world.

In pursuit of a logical systematic structure for reasoning and solving mathematical relationships, algebra is offered as the basic foundation for modern mathematics. After algebra, inquisitive, young minds move forward to geometry, the analytical development of mathematics inter-relating practical figures and situations.

Drawing upon mathematical tactics, and the above two courses, trigonometry expands the students' knowledge to embrace the full import of the concept of functions and relationships in abstract mathematical situations. For those students who are thinking of careers in science and engineering, accelerated courses in college algebra, analytic geometry, and calculus are offered.

Equipped with varied and advanced teaching aids and instruction, the Mathematics Department provides each student with the possibility to approach clear logic and practical application in a manner consistent with learning in the modern sense □

Art at Thornton is vivid, creative and soul-searching. Students are given the opportunity to explore color, proportion, technique and design in various mediums such as oil, tile, clay and charcoal.

Designed to keep in pace with the ever-changing art world, two semester courses, sculpture and printmaking, have been added to the curriculum. In sculpture, students concentrate on the human form, often using fellow students as models. Some time is also spent studying various animals and inanimate objects. Printmaking is a technique by which original multiple images are created. The course also included a study of silk screening, etching, and lithography. Plans are being made to expand printmaking into a full year course in response to student interest.

Music, a creative extension of one's soul, comes alive in various forms at Thornton. Since the Music Department offers such diverse courses, students are able to pursue a musical knowledge for vocational interests or amusement.

For students desiring the exuberating satisfaction of groupsinging, a number of choirs offer enriching impetus. Once a student has mastered the rigours of sight reading, voice training, and group harmony, he may branch into specialized groups which feature unique presentation and techniques.

Thornton's Music Department also hosts a number of performing groups for those who play musical instruments. Beside private lessons for individuals in the fields of voice, piano, and clarinet, indepth courses in music composition, history, scales, and appreciation are offered. As part of a liberal education, freshman enrolled in Social Studies I receive a six week survey of music, thus enhancing their present music background □

It's difficult to swallow; there's a lump in my throat. My hands are cold and clammy. My lips feel dry and my facial muscles are twitching. Will he get to me this period? Will I have to give my speech? Many Thornton students have experienced this feeling at some time during the one semester speech course, which is a part of English II.

Through impromptu speeches, students are given the chance to show how quick-witted and well-versed they are. Subjects as diverse as the correct method of brushing teeth to the effects of smoking on lungs are illustrated in demonstration speeches. Students also pantomime, give book reports and deliver persuasive and television speeches.

Those interested may progress to such courses as stagecraft, theatre workshop, advanced speech, and radio and television—where students actually work with the school's closed circuit television system □

A few years ago survival was designed to prepare students for emergencies and offer training in case of disaster. Included in this course is civil defense and atomic fallout protection.

Freshman girls are introduced to physical education by taking four to six week units of dance, tumbling and trampoline, health and swimming. Specialization is offered to Thornton's sophomore girls. France, Italy, Luxembourg, Columbia and Guatemala! Doesn't it sound exciting? This is where some lucky Thornton students spent their summer.

Marty Krause, Thornton's first AFS candidate to spend a year abroad, lived with a family in Marseilles, France. Sue Macander and Kathy Ford both spent their summer in Columbia, South America. Barb Osowski traveled to Sienna, Italy, Ed Bissett to Luxembourg, and Sue Winslow to South America. Three organizations, Experiment in International Living, International Fellowship and The American Field Service, sponsored our six exchange students.

Not only does Thornton send students abroad to be ambassadors to other countries, but due to a reciprocal agreement, Thornton can also host visiting students from other lands. During the 1969-1970 school year, Claes Frostell, a Swedish student; Lilliana Saavedra, from Peru; and Ron Frobe, from Germany, experienced the American way of life □

Album

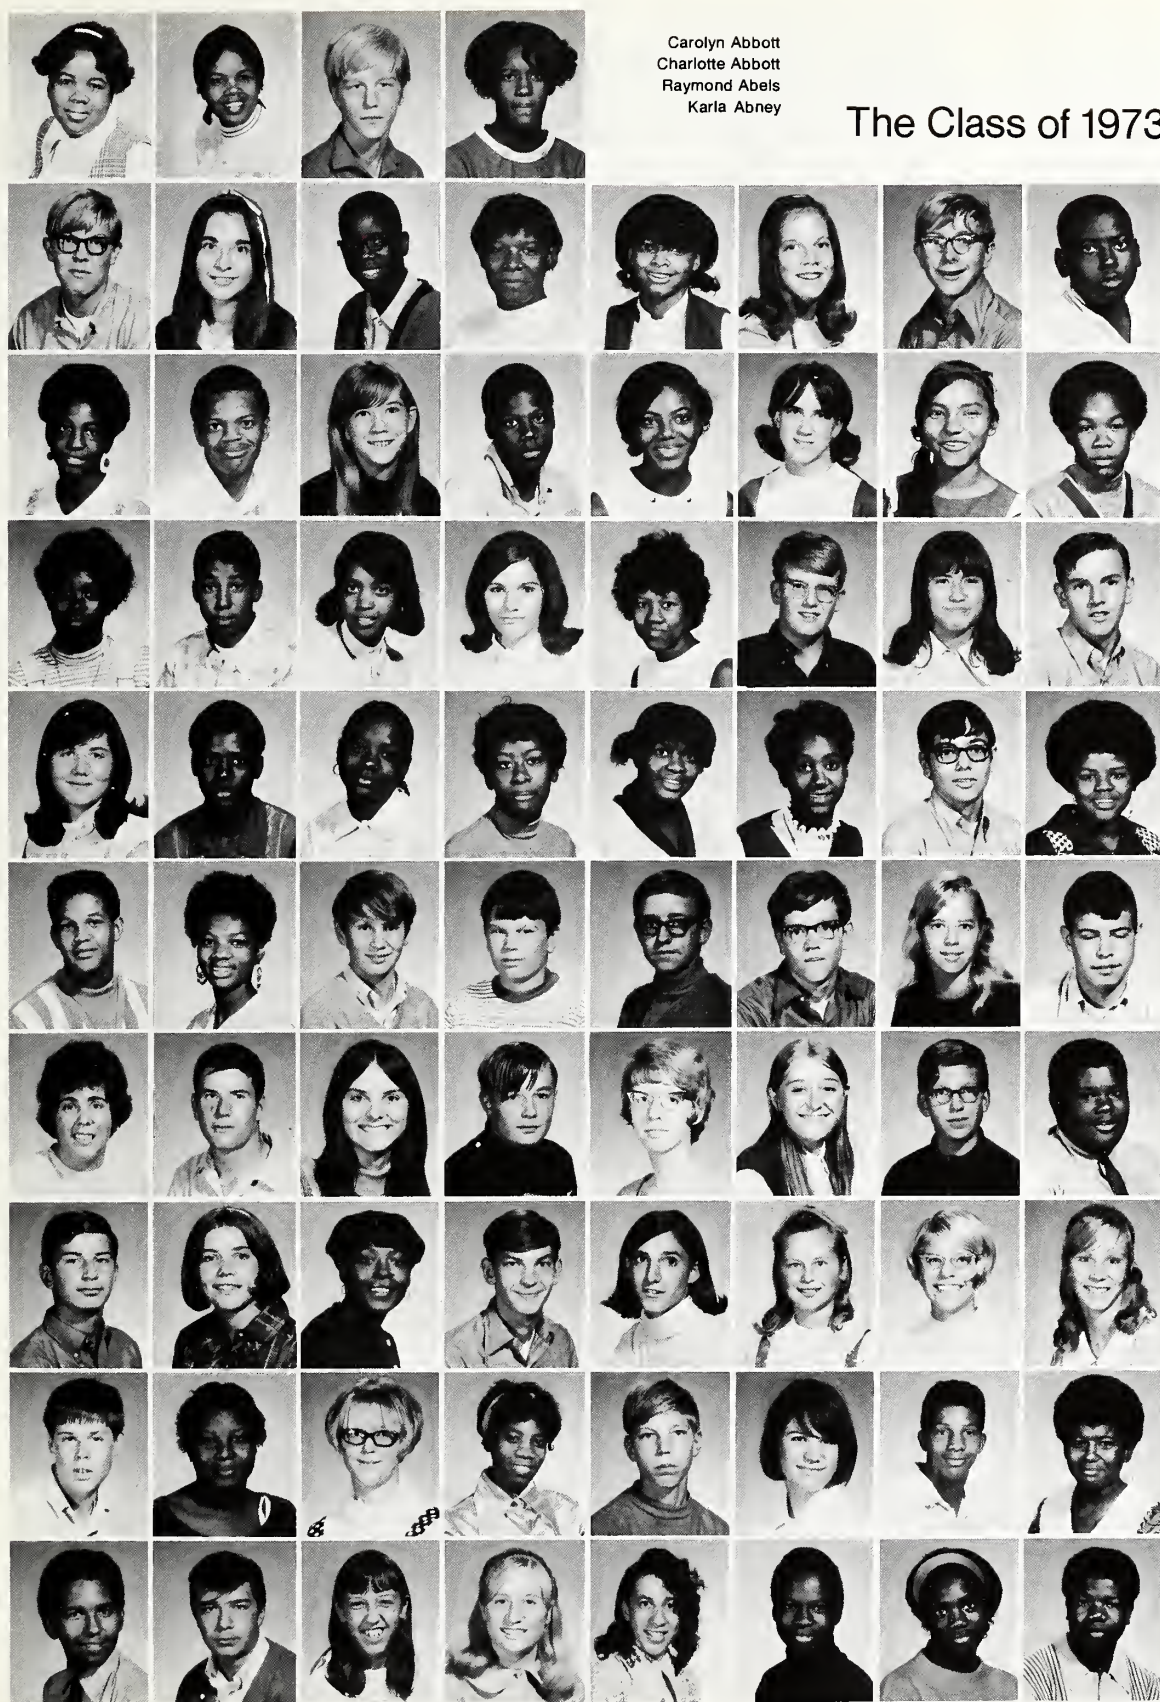

New faces, new friendships . . .
 A whole new world of excitement . . .
 Nations far and near all represented here . . .
 Intellectuals, scholars . . .
 Or those who don't quite make it . . .
 All together form our brand new generation
 All for one, and one for all!
 You've got a lot to live . . .
 And Thornton's got a lot to give! □

Attempting to reproduce a three dimensional art assemblage, Ginger Swearengin makes a preliminary sketch.

Although the dress and atmosphere of summer school are casual, the work still requires concentration, as Greg Fremouw and Terry Mangum will testify.

Suburban socialities, Harold Cobb and Betty Cole leave school after a fulfilling day.

Special Education Class

School District 205

District Administration—Edward F. Moravek, Robert H. Reese, James T. Ozment, Albert T. Krebs, Henry Vandenberg, Leo F. Piernas, George E. Webb.

District

Administration

Now serving his second year as superintendent of District 205, Mr. William Augustus has many plans for Thornton Township High School and the District. Among these proposals are a more personal involvement in curriculum planning and the incorporation of new programs that would benefit the students and faculty.

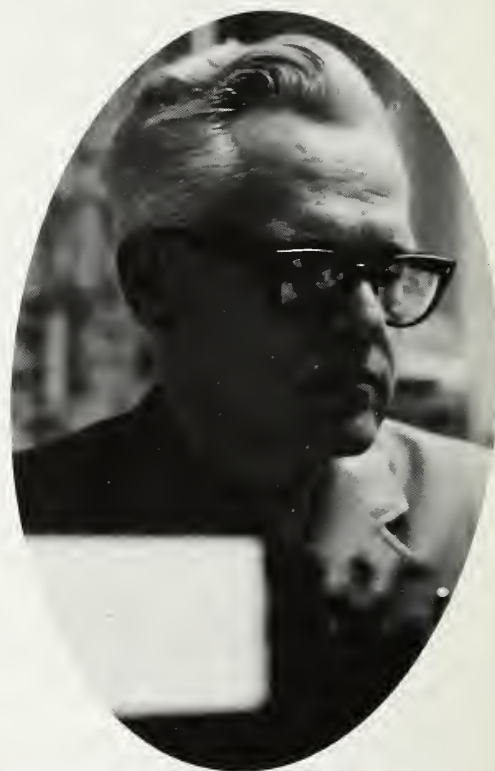

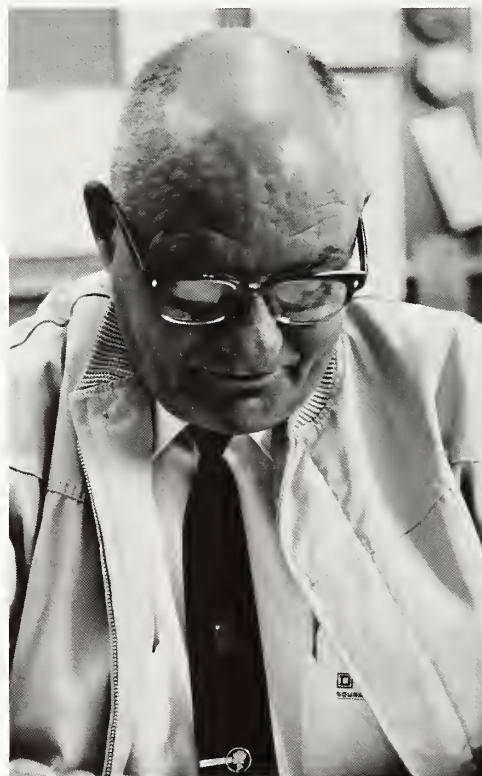

Though rather new to Thornton, Mr. Augustus still has his own opinions about the school. He is especially impressed with the loyalty of students at basketball and football games. He is impressed, too, with the large number of students participating in extra-curricular activities □

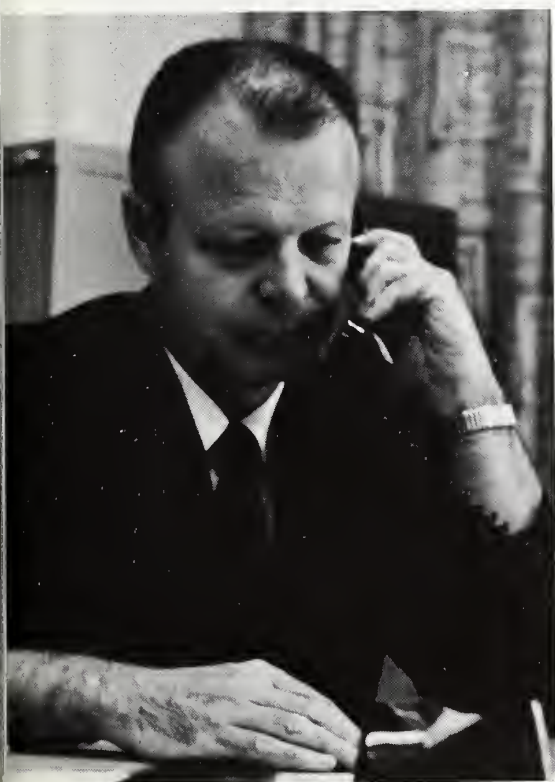

Jack Curless, assistant superintendent

Howard Doster, director of buildings and grounds

Donald O'Brien, director of curriculum and research

Ralph Rowe, director of special programs

William Schipper, director of business affairs

District Administration

In 1956 Mr. Jack Curless developed Thornton's present Data Processing curriculum. Today, as Assistant Superintendent, Mr. Curless has many responsibilities. He was among the prime movers in the passage of the Thornwood bond referendum.

The housekeeping of the district's 259 classrooms is but a small part of the responsibilities of Mr. Howard Doster, Director of Buildings and Grounds.

As Director of Curriculum, Mr. Donald O'Brien sees that the educational opportunities afforded the students of the district are among the finest afforded students anywhere.

Aside from supervising a galaxy of special programs here in the district, Mr. Ralph Rowe serves as liaison with the federal government. Mr. Rowe also coordinates all school publicity.

Watching over district funds and budgets is Mr. William Schipper who serves as Director of Business Affairs □

High School Administrators

Robert L. Herget, principal and Mrs. Herget

Robert Anderson, assistant principal

Toby Hightower, assistant principal

Coming to Harvey after having served as assistant superintendent of the Kane County School Office is Thornton's new principal, Mr. Robert L. Herget. A graduate of Illinois State University, Mr. Herget holds a masters degree from Northwestern University and is now working toward a doctorate in educational administration.

Five special people in Mr. Herget's life are his wife and their four children. His eldest son, Tom, is a University of Illinois sophomore; Greta, his eldest daughter, is a Thornridge junior. In elementary school are Jim, who is in seventh grade, and little Abby, who is in fourth grade.

Although Mr. Herget says he's not an avid hobbyist, he does enjoy watching football and basketball contests and playing a game of golf "every now and then." He also gets a kick out of playing bridge.

Mr. Herget seems to be quite pleased with Thornton and its excellent programs. He is especially impressed with it being "an extremely friendly school in both students and staff." Although he has no specific plans for Thornton at this point, he hopes "to learn as much about the school as possible, to see what is going on and what improvements can be made."

Serving his third year as an assistant principal is Mr. Toby Hightower. He is responsible for class schedules, grades, discipline policies and department supervision.

Familiar to all Thorntonites is Mr. Robert Anderson, assistant principal, who last year served as head basketball coach and counselor. His duties now include field trip arrangements, substitute teachers and department supervision.

Mr. Andrew Smith serves as administrative assistant. He is primarily concerned with Day and Night Opportunity School, student teachers, and Title I, which is a government program dealing with tutoring and cultural enrichment □

Andrew O. Smith, administrative assistant
